

Six hats for thinking about development views: Record sheet

Hat colour	Whose view?	Notes	Overall opinion based on your hat
White Used to think about facts and figures.
Red Used to think about feelings and emotions.
Black Used to think about the bad points/negative aspects/criticisms/failures.

Hat colour	Whose view?	Notes	Overall opinion based on your hat
Yellow Used to think about the good points/positive aspects/successes/opportunities/possibilities.
Green Used to think of creative, new ideas.
Blue Used as a 'master' hat to consider all perspectives, sum up the issues and how they might be resolved.

Overall opinion of your group

Who were you reviewing? _____

Things you like or agree with	Things you don't like or are not sure about

Overall comment:

Class review

Use this template to help summarise the presentations

Experts Inspire summary

Duncan's key points	Nuria's key points	Michael's key points	Clare's key points	Martin Kirk's key points	Alhassan's key points	Dominic's key points	Martin Woodhead's key points

Main similarities between their views	Main differences between their views

Organisation views summary

The UN's view	Oxfam's view	UNICEFs view	The IDC's view

Main similarities between their views	Main differences between their views

YOUR TOP NINE PRIORITIES FOR THE POST 2015 GOALS

Getting critical on post 2015

1.
2.
3.
4.
5.
6.
7.
8.
9.

A diamond nine of your views – which goes where?

Getting critical on post 2015

